Module Description

This course will continue reinforcing skills acquired in previous ENGL course. In addition it emphasizes principles of “Medical Terminology” and provides the students with a superb understanding of the medical “language”. The student will have the ability to understand and utilize medical/pharmacy language commonly used in patient care delivery and pharmacy practice. Emphasis is placed on root-words and affixes which have general and frequent occurrence in the communication of medicine, pharmacy, chemistry, and related areas.