Module Description

This provision reinforces the skills on having safe general handling of microorganisms, especially during pharmaceutical manufacturing, and ways to prevent and reduce contamination by microorganisms in pharmaceutical plants. It also demonstrates the production of pharmaceutically important products from biological sources. It highlights tests for certain microorganisms and their pathogenic products, proper ways of sterilizing pharmaceutical products, and for assaying of antibiotics and disinfectants. Lastly, it points out the aseptic processing and principles of GMP.