Module Description

This course is designed to provide a continuation of the principles and practice of pharmaceutical dosage forms. The course comprises emulsions, semisolid preparations, percutaneous absorption, sterile products, and pharmaceutical aerosols. The offering introduces students to both the theoretical and the practical aspects of these dosage forms.