Module Description

This is the second course of basic pharmacology. It first deals with the pharmacology of local hormones “autacoids; prostaglandins- leukotrienes- histamine- serotonin- angiotensin- endothelins” their role in health and disease, and further describes the utility of drugs acting on these systems. The course will also illustrate the pharmacology of drugs acting on the central nervous system, blood and blood forming elements and the GIT systems.