Module Description

This is more applied analytical chemistry course for 5th year pharmacy students. It deals with Drug quality control. The course is designed so that students gain understanding on different branches of pharmaceutical analysis, sampling techniques, potentiometric and conductometric analysis of pharmaceuticals as well as method validation and stability indicating methods. Essentially, students will thoroughly study applied spectroscopic and chromatographic methods of analysis.