Module Description

The course introduces students to tools of mind that will help them to reason well through the problems and issues they face, whether in the classroom, in their personal or professional life. It helps students to take these ideas seriously and practice them to take command of the thinking that ultimately will command the quality of their life.