Module Description

The course stresses the concept of toxicology with relation to defining its general rules, measurement, types of toxic agents; environmental pollutants, drugs; house-hold stuff; heavy metals, etc. Antidotes and measures/regulations to minimize toxicity will be likewise driven. Identification and managements of addiction and drug abuse will be also studied. Also, an overview will be provided on teratology and common drugs posing such a risk during pregnancy.